Saturn Trine Pluto Aspect Time to Restructure

Greetings Everyone!

We hope you have been enjoying the Jupiter/Uranus aspect (The Intuiting aspect) that started in mid-March and continues until June 2. It's a time for new friendships, laughing at unusual things, inventiveness, intuition, successful meetings, foreign travel and enjoying the outdoors. As you may know, an aspect is a connection between two planets. (See our website: www.luckyastrology.com/aspects.htm)

But guess what? There is an additional aspect this month to take advantage of. Do you see the small angle to the left on the above chart? You'll notice it runs from April 9 to May 11 peaking in energy on May 3. It is the Saturn trine Pluto aspect, which we've named the "Restructuring" aspect. Also shown is the gigantic aspect of expanding Jupiter and uniquely changing Uranus which continues on through June 2, 2008. (To review interpretations for the Jupiter/Uranus aspect explained in our March newsletter, see www.luckyastrology.com/archive.htm.)

Next year there is only one major beneficial aspect. It is however a major spiritual one and we would do well right now to use the Saturn/Pluto aspect to get our business squared away so that in mid-2009 we can enjoy much spiritual expansion and attunement.

Saturn/Pluto Vibes Saturn aspects with their planning energies usually last only a couple weeks. This one with intensifying Pluto lasts almost five whole weeks! So, we can enjoy and use this vibration for over a month - just the time usually needed to develop new daily habits.

The aspect's intensity is only about 25% as strong as it could be. However, it's strong enough because of its longevity! For example, we might see it at work in politics -- watch for all sorts of revelations taking place in the political arena - such as secrets being uncovered that were long hidden from us common folk. That's the Saturn/Pluto influence. Here are some of the qualities of these two dynamic planets separately and in combination with each other:

Saturn Qualities: The most earthy of all the planets, Saturn structures and energizes forms in the material world. It is known as the planet of planning, focusing and concentrating, with its energy also available to organize, develop and schedule. It's the planet of conscience, our inner "should" voice, and can aid us in being respectable, mature and professional. Politics, status and standing in the community also are qualities of Saturn's vibration. Saturn's symbol is the solemn column, formally standing alone, straight, upright, quietly supporting any structures built upon it and serving as foundation for the manifesting world.

Pluto Qualities: This distant planet, on the other hand, is a water planet and correlates with our emotions. It is the investigator, uncovering and bringing feelings out into the light. It relives, renews and transforms. It retrieves from the past and reincarnates or brings to life again. It repeats past passions and desires. (Notice all the "re" words? As a prefix, "re" is defined as anew or again.) Pluto aspects point to a healing time, to replenish energy, to recharge and to re-expose life-long wants. Pluto also asks, requests or inquires, especially with "why?" because it always wants to delve deeper into the source. It also holds the energies of giving/getting bonuses, gifts, and legacies. Pluto's symbol is the magic bed - a water bed that brings life to all who sleep on it. It renews passions and desires.

So when we put these two planets together in an aspect we have a time when we can uncover and renew our tangible and material desires by focusing on, scheduling and developing projects. Planning to be successful or happy brings repeats of the same feelings. That's why we say this additional aspect is the Restructuring aspect. It adds form to our deepest feelings and yearnings. This gives renewed passion to our projects already underway. If we have space for new projects in our lives, it can be a Restructuring time to begin for now and for our whole life.

Together these two planets signify a time of extracting and condensing. Pluto extracts the inner essence and Saturn condenses and crystallizes energy into form. When we add in the Jupiter/Uranus aspect, this signals a time for extracting joyful emotions from past experiences and making new goals for their life-long repetition. This is big, and when we do our daily intuiting walks, explained below, we will be guided towards a new level of lucky and joyful experiences.

The Saturn/Pluto aspect will enable us to focus on our deepest desires, whatever they are. Looking back at our lives will help us get there. Our past experiences show us exactly what we want out of life - what we want to become and accomplish. For example, what would we want written about us in a testimonial after we die?

Our Epitaph - What would our epitaph be? Like -- "Here lies John or Sue, the most famous [name your fame] of 2018." You get the idea. We can write our own epitaph focusing on those qualities for which we want to be remembered. The universe is waiting for our order, we just need to decide. We can use the synergistic force of Jupiter/Uranus and Saturn/Pluto to hone in on those experiences and memories to find and develop our uniqueness and talents.

A Green Earth Time - The Saturn/Pluto aspect can also keep us focusing on being ambitious. If we're into environmental concerns, this is a really good time. Recycling, reusing, renewing, all those "RE" green words, have lots of energy now from the new aspect which also adds emphasis to organization and planning. Hey, come to think of it, why not invest in a green business, or start one?

Realignment & Balancing - The Saturn ambition and Pluto healing qualities of this aspect could indicate a time to realign our emotional, physical and spiritual energies. This might take many forms depending on the concern, but there will be motivation to consult healthcare and personal growth people for self or our loved ones. This could also include plans to develop a career in the health or wellness field. Those already in the healing arts will feel very energized and success oriented at this time.

Politics - Saturn energizes politics and Pluto exposes it more to the public - so who knows what that might mean to the current political situation with candidates under intense scrutiny at this time. Under the Jupiter/Uranus expanding humanitarian backdrop, the political party that best serves the common good to expand freedom and equality could make substantial progress and garner much interest in the next few weeks.

Tax Time? With April 15 tax deadline approaching, Pluto's ability to uncover secrets could help us find some tax loop holes! Perhaps there might even be some creative ideas presented to eliminate taxes altogether through new utilization of our nation's resources. Now wouldn't that be nice!

Business Tips - In business, Pluto's curiosity and Saturn's organizational focus could result in new findings - such as who is the source of media leaks, how to streamline a company's management or even ways to institute new policies and schedules based upon past success. New sources of funds could be discovered and training initiated to increase professionalism.

Working with the Saturn/Pluto Aspect - All we have to do until May 3 is to keep deciding what we desire and are intensely passionate about. Our conscience/inner guide will urge us continually to focus on the most important priorities. Saturn/Pluto also points to a time when we should be investigating and delving into our hidden resources. In other words, it is a great time to find and bring to life again the positive emotions and yearnings attached to past experiences and talents to use in developing new projects.

Here's a "quick start" plan for both of the aspects:

- a) Mar. 16-May 8-Befriend others and have fun outdoors with groups; Intuit and be inventive
- b) April 9-May 3-Select life-long desires and emotions by prioritizing past favorite emotions
- c) May 3-May 11-Intuit projects and goals to reach life styles to easily enjoy favorite emotions
- d) May 12-June 2-Intuit easy ways of succeeding with our projects

Your Own Astonishing Aspect - We each have aspects that we were born with. Knowing our luckiest one will help us in restructuring our life styles so as to enjoy our innermost passions and emotions. These natal or birth aspects will give us glimpses into hidden passions from our childhoods. Davie's Uranus and Pluto astonishing aspect corresponds with his childhood interest in hypnosis and magic. Knowing this helps him get in touch with the joy of discovering the mysteries of life and using subconscious tools. He would be wise to keep putting energy into uncovering these mysteries to share with the world and also to ensure that his life style readily gives him lots of time to explore them. You can find your Astonishing natal Aspect on our website: www.luckyastrology.com/aspects.htm.

Spring into Spring with this Magical Program. Here's an ambitious way to work with happy memories and successful experiences to bring about more of our desires at this time. [Print this next part out as well as the e-newsletter attachments. If you want to just print the pertinent pages of the program below, use the pdf file on our website at www.luckyastrology.com/archive.htm (April) and use the option to print pages 5 and 6.]

1. Starting on April 9, take a walk for 10 to 20 minutes, outside if possible. Make it the same time each day if possible. While walking jot down your favorite memories of being loved, moments of happiness, and wonderful, joyful things done or that happened. Write them down on the attached form (List 1 attached).
2. After the walk, every day extract the feelings out of these memories. What emotion was your favorite? What made you feel most happy? Write it next to the memory. Strange as it may seem, the best place to do this is on our beds. Why? It's that Plutonian influence!
3. Prioritize the feelings by listing the most favorite ones at the top. This is a new list - so use List #2 (attachment).
4. On the next day, start off walking with a clean sheet of paper and write more favorite memories using another copy of List 1. After the walk, repeat step 2, recording the emotions attached to the memories. Then take both lists and condense them onto a clean sheet of paper, re-prioritizing them again.
5. Each day until May 3 continue with step 4 each day with a new prioritized list. These steps are important in restructuring your lives since you are formulating the essence of experiences and feelings that you want in life. What we focus on we get more of.
6. On May 3 after combining and re-prioritizing for the last time, your list is complete. Carefully copy the final list to look as professional as possible. This is your order form to the universe, a record of preferred emotions for your lifetime! Use Doc. 1 (attachment).

7. Place this document in an envelope, seal and label it: "My Life's Desired Emotions." Then store it with your other valuable documents, such as deeds, birth certificates, wills, etc. This is where the magic comes in! The subconscious mind or Source Energy sees this as an important, life-long decision of yours. The mini-ritual of sealing and storing the document gives a clear message to your sub-conscious and to the universe that this is important and meaningful to you.
8. After this is done, vow to never open the envelope again as a token of faith that these emotions will manifest fully without any interference on your part.
9. The next day at your walk time, realizing that the Cosmic has your order, start walking and every once in a while ask yourself out loud, "How do I change our life style?", "What is the next step towards my 'Envelope' (my deepest desires)?", and "What goals should I have?" When you ask these things aloud, you are transmitting your desire for assistance from a 'higher power'. And guess what? Ask and you get!
10. Place yourself in listening mode with each question.. Allow your chattering mind to rest as you allow intuition or hunches to surprise you--even before you finish asking the question. Honor the answers and realize this is your guidance directing you on the path. It's a sort of treasure hunt of following your hunches and gathering answers along the way. This step is called Intuiting.
11. Continue your idea-generating walks for answering questions as in step 9 and for your projects through May.
12. Starting in June use this technique any time to get fresh ideas -- just take a walk and ask aloud for the path to your 'envelope' - your happiness.

By each of us following this secret, magical program, we will attract the life style and all the joy and luck we could ever want in life.

The steps above are part of a program on how to be luckier and happier. Will you do it? The both of us will! If you have any questions or comments at all, please write us at Davie@LuckyAstrology.com or Joysee@luckyastronomy.com . We would also be most grateful to see how this program has made you luckier. We might even publish your testimonial with your permission, but first do it to see what happens.

We're off to India on April 8 for Level 2 of our Oneness Blessing process and after that to Bali for a week for our honeymoon. We'll be back in early May in time for our next newsletter! Have a great April and we hope to hear from you!

Namaste and Blessings,
