

August 2007 Lucky Astrology Newsletter

Greetings Family and Friends,

Last month as many of you are aware, we 'fired the grid' (www.firethegrid.org) which meant that we stepped up the planet's spiritual vibration through its people. Shelly Yates said we were to do something we loved and to be grateful during that one hour period so as to raise the vibrations of the planet. So at 4:11 a.m. we put on the music from the website, lit some incense and candles and spent an hour enjoying each other's love and feeling deeply what we were grateful for.

This issue of the Lucky Astrology newsletter will explain what is happening to us now that this has been accomplished, and then what part each of your lucky signs has to do with it. Handwriting analysis with Joy is also featured.

What is happening now is a Spiritual awareness or spiritual transformation across the planet for all of humanity. There is a spiritual Avatar in India, Sri Bhagavan, who has for a few years now been growing the Oneness Movement. According to him, in about five years every single person on the planet will be enlightened. To learn more of this Oneness Movement, please visit www.onenessmovement.org.

JoySee & I share his vision and can feel this coming about. You will too when you look for it. So handwriting analysis and astrology will only really be tools for the next five years while we are making the transformation. By the end of that time, this newsletter will be completely spiritual. You will notice the gradual shift from these tools to spirituality in the monthly issues.

Next month we will delve into the three stages of enlightenment of which the first stage is love -- loving yourself and everyone else. But for now we will get back to astrology and handwriting.

The Qualities of Astrology: I would like to explain another facet of astrology called the Quadruplicities or qualities. Each sign of the zodiac is either Cardinal, Fixed or Mutable. The Cardinal signs are the outgoing signs, the Fixed signs are strong willed, while the Mutable are adaptable.

Find your lucky Jupiter sign from my site www.luckyastrology.com/ if you haven't already, and then check the list below and see what quadruplicity it falls under and you will see what your lucky energy is like and how you will interface with the planet's spirituality. Remember, your lucky sign is NOT your Sun sign.

Here are a few ideas of what that might mean using each of the signs - Maybe you can think of some more ideas for your sign. Let me know!

Cardinal = Outgoing, set things going, lead others and work to an end

Aries = Leading the way with enthusiasm, energy, and selling it to all

Cancer = Nurturing the feeling of the growing spiritual awareness; responding to how it can be nurtured in others.

Libra = Uniting with others on an interpersonal level in the Love energy that is taking over the planet

Capricorn = Organizing a plan, project or business to promote the spiritual movement

Fixed = Strong willed, stable, steadfast, determined, conserving, dependable

Taurus = Taking a common sense, conservative but determined approach and loaning money to make sure the movement continues

Leo = Showing others how much fun the new humanity can be and creating powerful ways to radiate its Love

Scorpio = Uncovering the underlying feelings that go with the enlightened ones and receiving gifts from or for the Spiritual Movement

Aquarius = Distributing the movement's truth electronically and scientifically

Mutable = Adaptable, versatile, desire to serve

Gemini = Talking, writing and communicating all about the awakening process

Virgo = Perfecting the process of the new awareness

Sagittarius = Promoting, advertising, and broadcasting what is happening joyfully

Pisces = Feeling and sensing the changing of humanity towards love; being aware of developing psychic and telepathic abilities.

Once again, to be luckier, just find out your Jupiter sign at www.luckyastrology.com/ and then match it to the signs above to see how you fit into humanity's Spiritual Movement.

I would like to close this section by asking, will you please help us? Will you please forward this newsletter to people you know who are interested in Astrology, New Thought, metaphysics or their emerging Spiritual path? Thank you and they will also thank you.

If you are new to our e-newsletter family,
we now have the previous issues archived on the website.

Handwriting Analysis can give you a clue as to how you are doing with developing the cardinal, mutable and fixed qualities in your horoscope. Write out a few paragraphs in your usual handwriting and sign your name. Best to do it before you read on.

My (JoySee) horoscope is overall a mutable one which means that most of the 12 signs in my horoscope are mutable ones, including my lucky Jupiter sign (Pisces). So how is this shown in my handwriting? Before we get into my writing, look at your overall writing. In fact, look at the letter forms as a whole. That's where we'll begin.

Several things indicate cardinal, fixed and mutable qualities in handwriting. We'll look at a couple indications below of each of the qualities but bear in mind that a complete analysis is important for an accurate reading. This is only a piece of the puzzle.

Cardinal Signs: Is your writing rather large with a slant of the letters to the right? Large writing shows energy being expended in the physical universe and a right slant indicates you are someone who moves towards the future, towards action and it often also indicates you are someone who enjoys people as well. These are basically the cardinal sign traits of being outgoing, setting things going, leading and working towards a goal.

Fixed Signs: Do you like to use felt tip pens or medium to heavy ball point black pens? Or do you use heavy pressure when you write? That shows a lot of intensity and determination. Add to it small sized letter forms and a very conservative writing style and you pretty much have the fixed sign characteristics of strong willed, stable, steadfast, determined, conserving, dependable.

Mutable Signs:

OK - so we're finally to the mutable signs as promised. Do you have a rather casual writing style with the slant changing somewhat depending on your mood? And does it have a nice rhythm to it without being rigid? Rhythm is shown in your letters returning to the baseline (or the imaginary line you start your writing on). If so, you are showing the characteristics of adaptable and versatile, which are mutable characteristics as mine does. The desire to serve is shown in the endings of your words - do some of them extend outward and lift ever so slightly (no more than the height of an "a")? That indicates generosity to others, willingness to extend yourself.

That pretty much covers it for this month. Visit JoySee's website at www.TheWriteSite.us. Or email her at jsterling@sti.net with suggestions, comments and ideas. She'd love to hear from you as would Davie.

Namaste,

Davie and JoySee
