

July 2007 LuckyAstrology Newsletter

Greetings, Friends and Family,

Before we get into my astrology for the month and Joy's (Joyce's new name) handwriting work, we want to invite you to sign up for our new newsletter called "Goosebumps" - which has nothing to do with astrology or handwriting. Instead we are going to explore, and invite you to contribute, the many ways that people "know" they are being guided by Spirit. Joy touches on that a bit in her handwriting section below.

It is not going to replace this e-newsletter, but will be entirely separate and different. It has to do with hunches, chills, gut feelings, tingles, etc. It's in the works now, and if you are interested, please reply to this email at smilingdavie@yahoo.com for more details.

July is traditionally the month for the sign Cancer, which has to do with the home, family and mother feelings. And on July 23, the Sun moves into the sign of Leo, its natural ruler. Of course this is all called "Sun Sign Astrology" - whereas being luckier has to do with "Jupiter Sign Astrology," my passion.

What is the difference? Each of us incarnates at a certain vibration, a base note, if you will, according to our astrological signs. As we move along in life, our song plays according to the astrological motivations and drives of our Sun sign. A Taurus has a productive song of life; a Scorpio a passionate song, etc.

Our life song's mood, pacing, notes and keys reflect the major milestones in our life as well as our emotional and physical state of our being, beliefs, attitudes and values. We sing our song and finally finish back at the same base note we started at, and only then do we feel complete and take a rest.

This is the Sun sign's purpose - to guide us towards our chief aim in life and promote our character. It sets the vibration pattern and then we play the song according to our free will.

Jupiter, however, is the expander. As we go along on our song of life, we might try adlibbing, maybe harmonizing with others' tunes, throwing in some cacophony just for fun, or a bass run here and a riff or two there. Jupiter gives us that opportunity. It encourages us to experience other positive vibrations so that we expand our understanding of our life. Our own song then becomes clearer, more exciting, more harmonious and filled with the thrill of life.

Do you know your Jupiter sign? If not, go to www.luckyastrology.com and tune in to how to have a luckier, more joyful life. On the site, I've listed for each Jupiter sign, qualities and areas that have tremendous opportunities for expansion and success. We just need to energize these qualities and areas because they will bring us joy and success in direct proportion to the amount of energy we apply there.

FIRE THE GRID!

For all you who meditate, and there is ample proof that meditating does make humanity more peaceful, on Tuesday July 17 at 4:11 am PDT, we are invited to join in an hour of meditating, or other joyful activity, to "Fire the Grid." The Spiritual Grid of humanity and activating it with joy or fire is a one-hour planetary movement planned to create a loving, harmonious and healthy Earth. Here's Joy's message:

Hi Everyone, it's July - summertime and the living is easy! And as we are aware, the power of the SUN is in its full glory now - midsummer is coming.

As the month goes along we enter the sign of Leo, the Sun's sign, and a time when light and heat are most intense in the Northern Hemisphere (and in Mariposa that's saying 100 degrees or more, folks!).

The sun appears to be everywhere - not just in the sky but filling the earth with its light, while its heat warms and permeates the earth, waters, even our skin. We FEEL it. So much so that we don't know where it ends and we begin! And as a result of that light and heat merging and blending into everything it touches, we are blessed with vegetation from the earth, teeming life from the seas, and Vitamin D and a tan for our skin to name but a few effects. Powerful stuff!

July -- ♀ is the letter of INSIGHT -- as the rays of the sun can be only felt, not seen, (but still have profound effects) so the ♀ reminds us that which radiates from within us, the unseen -- insights, hunches, intuitive thoughts -- is just as important to us as what is external to us. Our internal "sun", our essence, enlightens (in-light) and energizes (warms) us, providing the passion, creativity, and imagination to fuel our external actions. Our sight within becomes one with what we create. It's a blending and merging, just like the sun. Powerful stuff too!

Actually, the word, July, is a good word we can practice - the presence of the Uu and the Yy letters in July between the letter Ll is pretty significant. Notice the openness of the U and the upper portion of the Y - the "cup" of each letter. Surrounded by the letter L, they're like open arms to Spirit/God, a receptivity to our true spiritual nature - the qualities of the Ll. So practice July to increase your receptivity, to open your arms to inspiration and insight from within and to the fullness of your spiritual nature and then put it into action - with a nice full lower loop on the letter Y. Be sure to model the letter forms as shown here - especially keep that Y downstroke straight up and down. Be open to the Sun within! It's July!

If you'd like to have your first name explained in terms of what each letter comprising it means in much greater detail than I just did for the word July, and for just $10, email me at jsterling@sti.net.

If you want a free interpretation of your personal letter, which is the first letter of your name, visit Joy's website at www.thewritesite.us.

Your Jupiter sign and its interpretation can be found at Davie's site: www.luckyastrology.com.
